

Merano

53° CHAÎNE DES RÔTISSEURS
GRAND CHAPITRE d'Italie
Merano – 2-3-4-5 settembre 2021

From South Tyrol With Love...

The annual big party of the Rôtisseurs organized in the heart of a region dedicated to tourism, food and wine

Dear Consoeurs, dear Confrères, all Friends, the organization of the 53rd National Grand Chapitre in Merano is a great source of pride for me so I expect to meet you numerous in what is my adopted land, South Tyrol, and in the town, Meran, where exactly 16 years ago - it was September 2005, Chapitre number 37 - I started my experience as Bailli Délégué d'Italie.

We can define our next Chapitre as the "Miracle in Merano", given the difficult time we have all gone through and from which we are finally coming out; and we know that any supernatural event is best done when it is invoked with love. Well, I can assure you that all of us at the Bailliage d'Italie have poured out a lot of love to get to this point. After the partial reopening of the country, we immediately threw our hearts over the obstacle - as they say in sports jargon - to offer you a Great Party which can be worthy of the name and, above all, worthy of you.

Alto Adige in general, and the Merano area in particular, have been kissed by Mother Nature. Here you can find excellent raw materials, from which skilled hands know how to prepare unique foods. Here there is a particular predisposition of the land to the cultivation of the vine, with precious white and red berried grapes.

Here you will meet very famous restaurants where established and well-known chefs - known even beyond regional borders - work.

The places we will visit tell of an extraordinary tourist vocation of the region, both summer and winter. And, let me tell you, here you will find an unrivaled sense of hospitality which is part of the DNA of the South Tyrolean people.

There is no doubt: it will be a fantastic Grand Chapitre, a weekend of absolute quality, worthy of all the international members of the Chaîne des Rôtisseurs.

The Grand Chapitre of Merano 2021 will be chaired by Norbert Simon, Bailli Délégué of Austria and a great friend of Italy.

At this point, I feel the duty to thank all those who actively participated in the realization of this event. I begin with the Clementson Travel Office from Venice: Enrico Spalazzi and his wife Monica Di Molfetta have, at times, overcome seemingly insurmountable operational obstacles. Bailli Sabina Kompatscher Settari and Anna Accalai, Chargée de Missions National, worked hard on the spot. Each member of the National Board was generous with direct help and valid advice. And finally a great thank you goes to all the Bailli and Associates who made me feel their closeness.

I anticipate that next year we will move to the antipodes of our beautiful Peninsula to celebrate our Chapitre number 54. We will be guests of the beloved land of Calabria and of the Bailliage run, with so much passion, by Antonella Sotira Frangipane. Details will be provided to you in due time.

For now, let's get ready to taste the beauty and goodness of Merano, the perfect synthesis of tourism, food and wine of the South Tyrol!

*Roberto Zanghi
Bailli Délégué d'Italie Conseiller Magistral, Paris*

Merano (Meran) is a historic and vibrant South Tyrolean spa town that rises in the suggestive landscape of the southern side of the Alps

Merano is about 30 km from Bolzano (Bozen), the largest city in South Tyrol and the third largest in Tyrol, where the Bailliage d'Italie is also located.

It is a place surrounded by Mediterranean vegetation and scattered with historical monuments, spacious parks, easy walking routes, botanical gardens, and waterways. The old town is characterized by medieval arcades and elegant art nouveau buildings. The natural spectacle presented by the glaciers' snow-covered peaks forms a backdrop to the palm trees and exotic plants of the beautiful gardens in the old town or Gardens of Trauttmansdorff Castle.

Equally diverse is the town cultural program on offer, which includes several high-end food and wine events such as the Merano Spring Festival, the Merano Grape Festival, the Merano Music Weeks, the Merano WineFestival and the Merano Christmas Market. The secret of Merano's success is to be found in the 1836 publication by a doctor named Josef Waibl who extolled the advantages of this mild climate. The first publication was followed by a second and the city became famous, even beyond the borders, as one of the most important health resorts in Europe.

In 1840, several care homes opened in Merano and the construction of imperial villas and large hotels also began. In 1874 the famous "Kurhaus" was inaugurated. In addition to the mild climate, various and particular treatments were also offered, such as the treatment with grapes, steam baths and much more. Thus began the great history of the city. In the second half of the 19th century the city of Merano enjoyed the patronage of famous guests. An annual stay in this Alpine town with its mild climate on the "southern balcony" of the Habsburg monarchy became socially de rigueur for Europe's aristocracy and rising middle classes. The sleepy little country town gradually became a spa resort.

The city has been a popular place of residence for several scientists, literary people, and artists, including Franz Kafka, Ezra Pound, Paul Lazarsfeld, and also Empress Elisabeth of Austria, known as Princess Sissi. She arrived in Merano in 1870 accompanied by a retinue of 102 people and stayed there for 9 months seeking relief from her pulmonary suffering and returning to Vienna invigorated by the air of Merano. Since then, the empress stayed in the city on numerous occasions, also being joined by the Emperor Franz Joseph and the crown prince, Rudolph.

The most famous and popular thematic route in Merano, which connects the Gardens of Trauttmansdorff Castle with the city center through eleven stages and viewpoints, was dedicated to Empress Elisabeth of Austria and is called the "Path of Sissi". So Merano brings to mind several centuries of history, but it is also an innovative spa town with its ultra-modern spas. During your stay in Merano you will discover that the cuisine of South Tyrol is a cuisine of the highest quality, accompanied by an always impeccable service. The area is well known for its wines, both white and red, and vineyards extend right into the city. On a relatively small area (the South Tyrol), equal to only 5,400 hectares, about 20 different grape varieties are grown: Pinot Grigio, Gewürztraminer, Pinot Bianco, Chardonnay, Schiava, Lagrein ... which have been producing excellent quality wines for years, now protagonists of the most important international rankings and guides. The local wine, Meraner Leiten (Meranese di collina), is a light red wine, best drunk young. The king of the typical products of South Tyrol is speck, which has been produced for generations following traditional methods but to which each producer gives different characteristics that depend on the family recipe and the unique mix of spices used - rosemary, bay leaf, juniper, salt and pepper. Generally, the production of Alto Adige Speck involves dry brining, light cold smoking and seasoning in the fresh mountain air. Cheese is the main ingredient of some of the most famous traditional South Tyrolean dishes, such as the typical Kasnocken, cheese dumplings, or the classic South Tyrolean snack. There are different types: cow's, sheep's, goat's milk cheese, chilli pepper, wine or hay cheese. There are also extensive orchards, and apples are exported throughout Europe. The Forst Brewery, on the edge of the city, produces a popular range of beers, sold throughout northern Italy. The city's landmarks are:

- the medieval city gates such as the Vinschgauer Tor, Passeirer Tor, and the Bozener Tor.
- the medieval Ortenstein tower, popularly called Pulverturm (lit. "powder tower").
- The Gothic St. Nicholas' Church and the St. Barbara's Chapel, both dating to the 15th century.
- the Princely Castle (Landesfürstliche Burg), which was a residence of Archduke Sigismund of Austria.
- The Steinerner Steg stone bridge which crosses the Passer River and dates to the 17th century.
- The Civic Theatre, the Kurhaus and the Empress Elisabeth Park
- The Kurhaus
- the Park of the Empress Elisabeth
- The arched Wandelhalle promenades along the Wandelhalle river.
- The Trauttmansdorff Castle and its gardens and the Tirol Castle, out of town.

Hotel Meranerhof ★★★★★

The Belle Époque was a noble, stylish, brilliant era. Mirror of that time is the majestic Meranerhof Hotel, a residence of character and elegance in the heart of the city and characterized by sumptuous and precious elements of the Jugendstil era. Here every detail expresses warmth and intimacy.

There are many famous guests who have stayed at the hotel including Michael Jackson. In the Hotel Meranerhof tradition and modernity coexist in a unique symbiosis to offer customers maximum well-being. The building stands on the ashes of the old Pension Wolf which was demolished in the early 1900s to make way for a four-story hotel, the Continental hotel, inaugurated in 1913. After World War I it was with the inauguration of the hippodrome that the spa town was once again full of tourists.

In 1966 Artur Eisenkeil buys the Continental hotel with new and grandiose projects for it and the hotel also changes its name, becoming the Meranerhof Hotel. The new aspect of the hotel is dominated by floral ornaments and arches from the Jugendstil era and is enjoying great approval: its success story is now traced. The hotel is now managed by the three Ladies, Traudl, Astrid and Beatrix, of the Eisenkeil family who, with passion and dedication, have been welcoming guests for years, offering impeccable and accurate service. The hotel is surrounded by the South Tyrolean mountains - Monte Muta, Punta Cervina and Gigot which show their most beautiful side here - and by a large and well-kept garden with Mediterranean vegetation. Among the hotel services, guests can enjoy an indoor swimming pool overlooking the garden and open in the summer season, a spa with Finnish sauna, Turkish bath, Kneipp tubs and a fully equipped fitness gym.

During the week, water aerobics, Nordic walking and other activities are offered. Hotel guests can take advantage of free wireless lan in all rooms and free access to the internet station. The Meranerhof also features the haute cuisine of Chef Arno Fritz and an elegant bar is available. Hotel guests are allowed free use of the private parking and the new charging stations for electric cars and free use of bicycles (e-bikes for a fee), pocket books and backpacks for excursions and, finally, take advantage of a discounted rate for access to the Merano thermal baths (located in front of the hotel). The rooms and suites furnished in a modern style feature sober lines, natural colors and contemporary art, while the rooms and suites of the Jugendstil era are characterized by warm colors and artistic furniture. Only one thing unites them: the classic style that has no time.

The hotel offers us the following types of rooms. On request we can reserve for you other categories of rooms with ad-hoc quotation.

Daily Guided Tour with Lunch in Bolzano

The tour includes departure from selected hotels with GT buses and multilingual guides, a visit to the Cathedral, the Chapel of San Giovanni and the South Tyrolean Archaeological Museum as well as a walk in the beautiful historic center of the city. At the end of the morning, a light lunch is included at the Arome - Thaler panoramic restaurant before returning to Merano. Skip-the-line access tickets are included.

The South Tyrol Museum of Archeology, in the historic center of Bolzano, is the “home” of Ötzi, “the man who came from the ice”, better known in Italy as the “Similaun mummy”.

The museum is one of the first of its kind in Italy. Here the Iceman is illustrated in every detail: medical and anthropological profile as well as the characteristics of the magnificent set of clothes and tools he had with him at the time of his death. Some interesting video projections illustrate the discovery and recovery of the mummy.

Radiocarbon dating gives him an age of about 5,000 years. This places him in the Copper Age, a time of transition between the Neolithic and the Bronze Age. It is assumed that, at the time of his death, Ötzi was 45 years old, 1.60 m tall and weighed 50 kg.

You will discover that Ötzi was equipped in the best possible way for staying in the high mountains and this shows that, already in his time, there was a rigorous specialization of work.

The Cathedral of Bolzano, built starting in the 11th century, is a cathedral church dedicated to Maria Assunta and, with its typical green-gold roof, is the emblem of the city of Bolzano.

Of the first Romanesque basilica only the foundations remain visible inside. The exterior, rebuilt after being partially destroyed during the Second World War, is instead an example of very high Gothic architecture.

The facade cladding was made in the 14th century by the Schiche brothers from Augusta in red (from Val Gardena) and yellow (from Bassa Atesina) marble and is decorated with skillfully chiseled balustrades. The filigree bell tower was built in 1517 by the Swabian stonemason Hans von Schussenried and gives the impression of aiming at the sky. On the side of the square is the wine door, one of the most beautiful Gothic portals in the whole of Tyrol, adorned with several statues including a couple of winemakers in the typical costume of the time. Under the tower, on the other hand, there is a 15th-century fresco made by pupils of Giotto's school.

Two cultures successfully meet in the cathedral of Bolzano, one from the north, the other from the south. The interior of the cathedral, the first architectural example of a hall church, is characterized by this contrast of Nordic Gothic art and the Renaissance character of the frescoes in Giotto's workshop (which once covered all the walls). Another masterpiece of the stonemason Hans von Schussenried is the pulpit, a sublime example of Gothic art. Also in the Gothic style are the two representations of the Madonna that are found inside the cathedral: one of the first Madonna lactans in the history of art and a pieta by Hans von Judenburg from 1424 that strikes for its particularly sweet expression.

The Dominican church and convent of Bolzano preserve the best examples of Giotto painting in the entire South Tyrolean territory. In particular, in the Chapel of San Giovanni, from about 1330 onwards, artists are at work who make their own the figurative innovations experimented by Giotto in Padua and immediately spread in northern Italy.

The chapel is completely frescoed with Stories of Mary, Stories of San Nicolò, Stories of San Giovanni Battista and San Giovanni Evangelista. The frescoes are the work of a workshop of artists from the Veneto region and had a disruptive effect on the painting in Bolzano, which had hitherto been characterized by the linear style of the early Gothic. You will discover a real treasure enclosed within the walls of the Dominican Complex!

Light lunch at the Arôme Restaurant by Thaler with a view of the rooftops of Bolzano.

The Arôme is located on the 5th floor of Thaler Portici 69 in the city center. This place is a haven of peace, relaxation and taste away from the hustle and bustle of the city; it is characterized by refined furnishings that make it a highly appreciated and refined meeting point "above" the Porticoes of Bolzano. The restaurant is expertly managed by chefs Gottfried Messner and Dominik Stuefer and headed by service manager Fabian Spögl. The restaurant enchants with its extraordinary location above the roofs of the historic center of Bolzano, but also fascinates with the delicious cuisine that blends traditional Mediterranean dishes with regional dishes made with the freshest ingredients and selected with the utmost care to offer guests the highest quality. After lunch, return to the hotel by GT bus.

Option 1
Aperitif and gourmet dinner at Schlosswirt Forst Restaurant
Chef Luis Haller

The Schlosswirt Forst, located a few kilometers from Merano and a few meters from the parent company “Birra FORST”, will welcome us exclusively in its rooms for a gourmet dinner.

The romantic garden of the restaurant will impress you with its majestic bluebell-tree Paulonia, which was planted in 1804. The interior, extremely pleasant, is that of a traditional wood-paneled Stube, decorated with old-style ceramic stoves, wall paintings from yesteryear and items of porcelain. Within its historic walls, the skilful work of Chef Luis Haller and his team is entirely focused on nature: the result is a small oasis of peace, an enchanting place in which to celebrate good food. Two realities are created here, managed in parallel by the Chef: one focused on the high quality natural cuisine of South Tyrol and the other where a skilful gourmet reinterpretation is offered. In the special evening dedicated to the Chaîne des Rôtisseurs, the gourmet experience, the pride of the restaurant, will be reserved for us.

Chef Luis Haller was raised in the Passeiertal Valley. He discovered his passion for cookery early in life and after completing his studies at the hotel management school in Merano, he worked at a number of important restaurants and hotels, both in Italy and abroad; his great talent immediately emerged.

Awarded one Michelin star from 2009 to 2016, Luis is a dedicated culinary craftsman. Utilizing only a minimum number of selected ingredients in each of his recipes, he always manages to come up with something entirely new.

In 2017 Luis Haller has been nominated “Chef of the Year 2018” and awarded with the Premio Godio.

In 2018 Luis Haller has been awarded with “1 cappello” by Le Guide de l’Espresso and with 15 points and 2 toques by Gault&Millau. In 2019 Luis Haller has been awarded with “2 cappelli” by Le Guide de l’Espresso and with 16,5 points and 3 toques by Gault&Millau.

With his new project he wanted to create a house to tell a story linked to traditions, but with a lot of space to dream; an environment suited to the philosophy that guides him in his work in the kitchen: superfine flavors that arise from local cuisine and love for nature, authentic, natural and particular flavors. And his place of the heart was found in Lagundo.

Option 2 Aperitif and Dinner at Gourmet Restaurant Miil (Kränzelhof) Chef Othmar Raich

The Miil is the flagship of the Kränzelhof wine estate which consists of seven gardens of 20,000 sqm that evolve and change with the rhythm of the seasons with magnificent plants, works of art and wine culture, a residence with a historic wine cellar, a wine estate and finally the restaurant. In the vineyards there is also a curious labyrinth created by the specialist Gernot Candolin. The refined and trendy restaurant is housed in a 15th century mill, in the immediate vicinity of Merano; the building has been renovated with great taste: it contains the old and classic stube but also a minimalist room, overlooking the waterway that feeds the mill ... a skilful play of glass, stone and wood. The chef is Othmar Raich, assisted by Andreas Heinisch. Othmar attended the hotel school in Merano, then worked in Germany, also with the three-starred Chef Heinz Winkler. He has been at Miil for 5 years and he is keen to point out that his fundamental teacher was his mother Agnes.

His cuisine is based on research and substance: he is inspired by the woods and meadows of South Tyrol and the common denominator of all his dishes, in addition to technique and passion, is freshness. The dishes come from organic raw materials, from solidarity chains and from a respectful and sustainable processing, dictated by nature.

 Dinner at Restaurant Zum Löwen
 Chef Anna Matscher – 1 Michelin Star

The “Zum Löwen” restaurant in Tesimo was born from a skilful renovation of an old farm: from the barn to the old stables, everything has been recovered and enhanced by modern additions.

Nowadays the “Zum Löwen” is a point of reference not only for gastronomy: it is the intimate theater of a cuisine of grace and elegance that draws on the tasty local tradition, stripping it of the trappings. The real stars are the pleasures of the palate.

All this is made possible thanks to the passion and devotion of all those who work in the restaurant. In 1987, Anna Matscher decided to make a change in her life. A masseuse by profession, she decided to dedicate herself to her true desire: a love for cooking.

Together with her husband Alois, then a bank employee, the couple took over the family farm in Tis-ens (Tesimo). After several cooking courses and internships with the most prestigious chefs, it took Anna just 10 years to gain a high level reputation in local culinary circles. Meanwhile, Alois started learning about the world of wine and fast became an expert sommelier. His daughter, Elisabeth, has since followed in his footsteps with true professionalism.

After 10 years of commitment and devotion, the deserved Michelin star arrives ... today Anna is the “Gran Dame” of South Tyrolean cuisine, the only female chef to boast the star in South Tyrol. Self-taught chef, she has earned esteem and respect on the pitch.

Anna confides: “The source of my ingredients is most important to me. I look for ingredients that meet my quality standards and this brought me into contact with local farmers and suppliers. Traceability and transparency are fundamental to my work”. The herbs Anna uses in her recipes are collected from the magnificent garden at her property in Tisens, where she grows particular species, hard to find for sale: radish pods, gherkins, tomatillo, lychee tomatoes and strawberry spinach..

From her kitchen we are offered crisp and clear dishes definitely allergic to frills.

Anna Matscher was named “cook of the year” by the guide “Gault Millau South Tyrol 2021/22”.

Aperitif and Gourmet Dinner at Restaurant Kirchsteiger
Chef Cristian Pircher

The Kirchsteiger Hotel-Restaurant is immersed in a soft mid-mountain landscape, overlooking the Adige Valley and surrounded by an extraordinary setting of unspoiled nature. Modern geometries make it perfectly integrated into the landscape; here nature comes powerfully into the scene, thanks to classic lime wood furnishings and large windows overlooking the Dolomites. The restaurant also has a wonderful sunny terrace.

The Kirchsteiger Restaurant is a small oasis of intimacy where the emotions of the palate meet a Nordic fairy tale. Living an experience at the Kirchsteiger Restaurant means experiencing new sensations, aromas and flavors that transform every taste into a rare and intense moment.

Chef Christian Pircher is a young pearl of Jeunes Restaurateurs d'Europe. His culinary creations of the highest level have led him to be the youngest starred chef in South Tyrol (earning the Michelin star in 2001, 2002 and 2003) and to be awarded several times (with 1 star in the Veronelli guide, 2 Gault Millau hats since 2007, 80 points from Gambero Rosso and 2 hats from the Espresso Guide).

The pure pleasure of gastronomy for the chef is a constant search for raw materials of the highest quality and seasonal local products. They are chords of a melody that releases dishes full of gustatory wisdom.

He offers guests gastronomic specialties based on fresh and precious products. Its cuisine is modern but always faithful to tradition, products and typicality, light and sincere. Chef Christian Pircher is dynamic, enterprising and has a quivering passion that brings his inspiration to levels of true excellence.

Induction Ceremony at Teatro Puccini

The Induction ceremony, officiated by Simon Norbert - Bailli deleguè of Austria - will take place at the Puccini Theater in Merano. Merano's Theatre, located in the main square of the town, is the only historic theatre in South Tyrol. It can be easily reached on foot from the Terme Meran, Meranerhof and Mignon hotels. We recommend a taxi transfer from/to the Adria hotel. Starting in 1870, the growing tourist development of Merano as a health resort and residence was accompanied by an intense building activity. The remains of the city walls were demolished. On the Passeggiata Lungo Passirio the guests of the thermal baths paraded. The desire to have a real theater in the city grew stronger, so much so that the municipal administration entrusted the construction work to a famous Munich architect, Martin Dülfer. The building received general approval; the Jugendstil was very popular in those years in Merano. The neoclassical façade met the taste of many with its powerful play of contrasts, between rough plaster, smooth surfaces, stuccoes and ornaments that recall, with a majestic proscenium on columns and balcony, historical classicism and Greek mythology. The interior was also celebrated as an authentic Jugendstil jewel. The theater was officially inaugurated on the occasion of the performance of Goethe's "Faust" on 1 December 1900 and, until the outbreak of the First World War, it could count on its own company of considerable artistic level, attracting artists and musicians from all over the world. Only later, in honor of the famous composer Giacomo Puccini who stayed in Merano in 1923, the theater was renamed "Teatro Puccini".

Post-induction light lunch on the terrace of Meranherof Hotel

The refreshments will be organized by the Selbergmochts catering, made up of a group of peasants from Val Sarentino united by their common love for the genuine products of their land and by a passion for ancient cuisine. This "catering in costume" was born in 2005 when some Sarentino peasants decide to start a cooking service that today is also successful outside the region. The group is called "Ollerhond Selbergmochts" which means "a little bit of everything, self-made"; they offer typical dishes with simple, tasty and genuine products, characteristic of Sarentino peasant cuisine. It will therefore be a moment dedicated to local tradition in the elegant atmosphere of the hotel.

Aperitif and Gala Dinner at the Kursaal (Main Hall) of Kurhaus

The gala dinner will be held in the majestic Kursaal, the ballroom of the historic Kurhaus embellished with Art Nouveau decorations and ornaments.

The Kurhaus, overlooking the Passeggiata Lungo Passirio, is one of the symbols of the South Tyrolean spa town and one of the most famous Art Nouveau masterpieces in the entire Alpine area. Three dancing Graces float, lightly, on the top of the Kurhaus, as if to underline the sense of lightness and refinement that envelops the entire architectural complex.

In the mid-nineteenth century, Merano, which had become a prestigious tourist destination, felt the need for some buildings which were suitable for the entertainment of the noble guests. Following several initiatives made by some ambitious citizens of Merano and a costly planning and building phase, the first Merano Kurhaus finally opened on 14 November 1874. Built in neo-classicist style - according to plans by Josef Czerny - it housed a reading room with periodicals from all over the world, a smoking salon, a ladies' room, a hall of mirrors with a movable stage for concerts, gambling and entertainment as well as carbonated baths for the cure.

But by the turn of the last century this Kurhaus, today's west wing, had become too small. The Kurhaus was renovated and expanded between 1912 and 1914. The new Kurhaus, an expression of elegance and modernity, should have been built partly in place of the 1874 structure, partly occupying new spaces between the historic center and the Passirio River. In 1911 the proposal of the architect Friedrich Ohmann from Vienna was approved by the local authorities, and the following year the construction began. Ohmann, Jugendstil (=Art Nouveau) architect, designed the rotunda and the main hall - known as the Kursaal - with a ceiling decorated with paintings by Rudolf Jettmar, Horace Gaigher and Alexander Rothaug. Ohmann, in full Jugendstil spirit, conceived his creation as a total work of art (Gesamtkunstwerk), so much so that he personally designed the interior decorations and even the accessories, such as the silverware supplied to the structure. However, the outbreak of the First World War prevented the execution of the grandiose project in its entirety. The renovated Kurhaus and Kursaal complex was then inaugurated on December 31, 1914. Between 1985 and 1989 the building underwent a radical restoration.

Aperitif & Gala Dinner at Kursaal

Address: C.so della Libertà, 33, 39012 Merano BZ)

• Meeting at Kursaal.

Dress-code: dinner jackets / tuxedo, with ribbons

The dinner will be prepared by some of the best chefs of Alto Adige region:

Chef Herbert Hintner from Zur Rose Restaurant in Appiano sulla strada del vino BZ – 1 Michelin star. “Herbert Hintner is perhaps the most important exponent of a wonderful contemporary cuisine in which regionality and modern gastronomic structure meet in the most valid way.” So we read about him by Jürgen Dollase in the “Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung”. Hintner was born in Colle in Val Casies (BZ) in 1957. He attended the professional hotel school in Bolzano and, after finishing school, he gained experience in various hotels in South Tyrol. The first contact with creative cuisine is at the Klosterbräu Hotel in Seefe-Pomodorigl. At the age of 25 he married Margot Rabensteiner, daughter of Peter Rabensteiner and Rosa Stimpfl, owners of the Zur Rose restaurant in Eppan: Herbert takes care of the kitchen and Margot joins him in the dining room of the restaurant. Over the years their commitment and perseverance are rewarded by the recognition of famous national and international guides, starting with the award of the Michelin Star in 1995, followed by 2 chef hats and a score of 16/20 for Gault & Millau, by the two Stars of the Veronelli Guide, the score of 86/100 for the Gambero Rosso and the score of 16.50 / 20 for the Espresso. Numerous awards have also arrived such as the victory of the “Best wine soup for Godio” (1994), the “Chef Patron” award by Veronelli (2008) and the “Awards for the Mediterranean Cook book in the world”.

Chef Edoardo Fumagalli of the Locanda Margon restaurant in Ravina TN – 1 Michelin star; he is the chef of the restaurant that Cantine Ferrari has created to fascinate guests arriving from all over the world. Fumagalli, a native of Brianza, makes his first experiences close to home, then in large hotels such as Villa d’Este in Cernobbio, the Danieli in Venice and a five-star hotel in Edinburgh. At the age of 21 he joined the Marchesino owned by Gualtiero Marchesi, where Daniel Canzian was chef. He also gains experience at Alain Solivèrès’s Le Taillevent in Paris, at the prestigious Daniel of New York (chef Daniel Boulud). He makes shorter but important passages in Lasarte with Berasategui, in Piazza Duomo with Enrico Crippa, in Les Crayères by Philippe Mille. He was chef for the first time at the Locanda del Notaio, in Alta Valle Intelvi (CO). In 2018 he won the San Pellegrino Young Chef competition. In July 2019 he was contacted by the Lunelli family to take the place of a “sacred monster” at the head of Locanda Marong, that of Chef Alfio Ghezzi. Edoardo Fumagalli offers a gastronomic experience that starts from solid technical foundations and a deep knowledge of the raw material, especially from the mountains, but is characterized by creativity and contemporaneity. Respect for the ingredient is important in his cuisine, resulting in a “simple complexity”.

Chef Manuel Ebner of the Ansitz Rungghof restaurant in Cornaiano - Eppan on the Wine Route - 2 Gault Millau hats. Manuel Ebner is a young artist chef who is always in search of ancient traditions, customs and ways of life of the Oltradige wine culture which have been partly forgotten for a long time, to transport them into modern culinary art. The kitchen for him is a research laboratory, where he experiments with aromas, salts and oils. It takes up ancient gastronomic customs and gives his personal touch, creating new, extraordinary flavors, using natural ingredients. He combines the most diverse ingredients and develops dishes with a surprising taste... from the very first bite! He makes original creations characterized by maximum digestibility, which give a pleasant feeling of satiety and sustainable food quality. Sometimes he plays with fire and smokes what goes through his head with woods poor in resin and intense, young and old, aromatic and fruity. His passion is the garden of aromatic herbs, meticulously cared for: a riot of perfume, a triumph of colors, a paradise of biodiversity. The essential non plus ultra for every dish. Each element is perfectly arranged on the plate. First it is drawn on paper, then it is conceived and processed. Only when Manuel is satisfied with his work it is ready to reach your palate.

Chef Pâtissière Natalie Trafoier of the Kupplrain restaurant in Castebello-Ciardes - 1 Michelin star. Nathalie Trafoier, daughter of star chef Jorg Trafoier and Sonya Egger (queen of a thousand- and one-nights cellar), makes her way into the family restaurant as the creator of a line of grand pâtissier sweets and desserts. More and more "petit four". A realm of "delicatessen", a hymn to gluttony. The Kupplrain and its garden terrace are an author's table but also the theaters of the triumph of pastry, ice cream and chocolate. Fused together or well separated according to the recipes and occasions. Nathalie's mastery is the result of a passion, which has been inherited but also carefully personalized and studied. And her work is a living part of the family business.

Chef Egon Heiss of the Prezioso Restaurant at the Relais & Chateaux

Castel Fragsburg - 1 Michelin star. During his long career as a star chef, Heiss has delighted politicians, Formula 1 stars, crowned heads and billionaires from all over the world and he has been defined by the critics of the guide Gault Millau, an "inventor and charmer" chef capable of making masterpieces and works of art presented with great skill".

His cuisine is made of orderly contrasts, with a dry and colorful style, in which the ingredients of the memory of Val Sarentino prevail, but without predominating. The peasant world of the mountains re-emerges above all from the wealth of emotions in which "leaving out the superfluous is the most perfect of arts", says Heiss.

After completing his apprenticeship as a chef at the Meranerhof Hotel in Merano, Egon Heiss has held various positions around the world: in La Perla di Corvara, at Norbert Niederkofler's Rosa Alpina, up to Palm Beach and New York. Heiss works for Marco Pierre White in London, then at the Ostroff in Prague, and returns again to London where he works with Anton Mosimann and later with Gordon Ramsay. Finally, he returned to South Tyrol and worked at the Hotel Castel in Tirolo under the guidance of Gerhard Wieser. His first job as head chef was at the Parkhotel Laurin in Bolzano. Two and a half years later he returns to his hometown, Sarentino, where he took over the culinary management of the Bad Schörgau Hotel, whose gourmet restaurant was awarded a Michelin star in 2014. In his career he has collected several awards including 1 star in the Michelin Guide, 2 toques and 16 points in Gault Millau and 2 forks and 81 points at Gambero Rosso.

Today he is the executive chef of the Prezioso Restaurant.

Farewell Lunch at the Romantik Hotel Oberwirt

The Romantik Hotel Oberwirt in Marling has been a home rich in traditions and values since at least 1496 when it was mentioned for the first time in the history books as “Jakob Wirt” or “zum oberen Wirt”; around 1600 some documents already bear the name of “Oberwürth”. In 1749, after the succession of numerous owners, the name “Waldner” appears in the registers, starting a family tradition that continues today. Numerous generations of Waldners transform what began as a village hotel into a realm of life’s pleasures, delighted to delight its guests. In 1973 Josef took over his parents’ company and gave the Oberwirt a modern and contemporary luxury, but always in harmony with traditions. Now, his daughter Barbara is the representative of a new generation that directs the hotel into the future together with “Sepp”, the senior landlord.

Marling is one of the most fascinating places in South Tyrol, with a sublime location above Merano, surrounded by apple orchards, vines and a wonderful Alpine panorama. The Oberwirt restaurant will welcome us in its rooms for the farewell lunch at the end of the Chapitre. For 35 years, chef Werner Seidner has brought to life the excellent specialties of the Romantik Hotel Oberwirt, creations regularly awarded the Gault Millau hats. In his kitchen, the finest ingredients are transformed into authentic delights for gourmets, dishes in which to savor a great passion and immense love for the region. Werner Seidner and his brigade of chefs know how to toast the finest flavors, from traditional to elegant, through hearty or Mediterranean dishes.

The data processed will be those, described in point 2, which are strictly necessary for the purposes indicated in the preceding point.

5. Recipients or possible categories of recipients of personal data.

The data indicated in point 2 will not be disseminated and will be processed using organisational and logical methods related to the purposes specified above.

6. Methods of data processing.
