Bailliage de Manille

A TALE OF TWO CITIES

In the wake of the Great Depression, Weimar Germany is in desperate straits. The economy is in shambles, the government is in chaos, there is violence on the streets, and the Nazis become a force to reckon with.

An escape from these desperate times is provided by the Cabarets where hedonism, the good life, and the pursuit of pleasure still reign supreme.

Fifty (50) years ago in the Philippines, a similar ferment was happening. A communist insurgency on the rise, student activism in the streets, and rumors of Martial Law in the air...

Amidst the mayhem, a group of gastronomes dare to create an oasis of civilized enjoyment of the finer things in life by founding the Confrerie de la Chaîne des Rotisseurs, Bailliage Philippines on the eve of the declaration of Martial Law, Thursday, September 21, 1972.

Today, 50 years later, we commemorate our Golden Anniversary with the theme Cabaret!
